

Morality and Medicine (taught online, Summer 2021) – all comments

What did you like best about how the course was taught?

| Comments   |
|--|
| The discussion-based structure of the class allowed me to hear opposing viewpoints and consider all sides of a philosophical debate. Class atmosphere was very inclusive and everybody was enthusiastic and participating. |
| I liked the information being taught and how everyone was very engaged during the discussions  |
| I liked that it was strongly discussion-based and he mostly let us lead the discussion & made sure everyone had a chance to speak who wanted to speak  |
| He's a great professor for this course! He's understanding and kind. I can truly say I've been taught a really important skill to stay focused and clear in my writing. Genuinely thankful.                                |
| I loved the open discussion and that everyone was comfortable sharing ideas.   |
| I like having class discussions  |
| I like that the course was discussion based and centered around the student's thoughts and ideas.  |
| Discussion among other classmates  |

If you were teaching this course, what would you do differently?

| Comments  |
|---|
| Nothing, I like it the way it is  |
| I overall really liked the class but if I had to pick something I'd find a way to get the documentaries without advertisements. It's jarring to be watching a documentary about dying and death and then be interrupted by a loud advertisement for Daiya yogurt. |
| No changes  |
| Nothing it was great  |
| Give a little more time to take quizzes. They feel rushed when trying to write a well reasoned short answer response.   |
| maybe have break out groups? while the class is small its still hard to give everyone time to talk.   |
| Provide extra credit opportunities to help students learn more about a topic they are interested or passionate in   |